Summit Learning Privacy Policy

Effective July 1, 2019

Introduction

The Summit Learning Program is a personalized approach to teaching and learning inspired by the vision to equip every student to lead a fulfilled life. T.L.P. Education (“Summit Learning” “we”, “us” and “our”), a California nonprofit public benefit organization, operates the Summit Learning Program (the “Program”), including the Summit Learning platform located at www.summitlearning.org.

The Learning Services (defined below) are designed to facilitate strong relationships between teachers and students through real-time data about progress towards goals, access to ongoing feedback, and access to a wide range of learning resources that enable students to build on what they learn from the teacher by self-directing some of their learning, too.

We are committed to the Future of Privacy Forum’s and SIAA's Student Privacy Pledge [https://studentprivacypledge.org] (“Student Privacy Pledge”).

As with any technology used in the classroom, protections must be in place in order to safeguard student information. We have established this Privacy Policy (the “Privacy Policy”) to clearly articulate the personal information that we collect and how we use and share it. Use of the Services is also governed by the User Agreement [cdn.summitlearning.org/marketing/privacy_center/user_terms_of_service.pdf] (the “User Agreement”).

Summit Learning does not place ads in its Services or use information that we collect for ad purposes, including for behaviorally-targeted advertising purposes. We do not, and will not, make or seek to make money from students or their schools, teachers, or parents. We do not, and will not, sell, rent or lease student personal information.

We provide a personalized online learning program for students in schools that sign agreements with us for the Summit Learning Program.

We do not allow ads to be placed on the Learning Services or seek to make any money from students.

When you use our Services you agree to all the terms in this Privacy Policy and our User Agreement. You agree that by registering for, accessing or using our Services, you are agreeing to enter into a legally binding contract with Summit Learning (even if you are using our Services for your work at a school).

This Privacy Policy applies to www.summitlearning.org ("Web Services") and the Program features accessed through www.summitlearning.org ("Learning Services") (collectively, the Web Services and Learning Services are "Services").

This Privacy Policy applies to those who register for the Learning Services ("Licensed Users") and also applies to visitors to our Web Services who do not have registered accounts or anyone who is not logged in to their registered account ("Visitors"). This Privacy Policy also describes how we collect and use information from students ("Student Users") attending “Partner Schools” (defined below) (Student Users together with Licensed Users, are “Users”).

This Privacy Policy does not apply to information collected by Summit Public Schools (a separate legal entity that pioneered the Summit Learning Program). This Privacy Policy also does not apply to websites or online services of companies that T.L.P. Education does not own or control even if accessible from our Services.

The Services may contain links (e.g. educational content) that take you outside our Services. This Privacy Policy does not apply to such services that are not operated by T.L.P. Education. Access to and use of such outside websites or online services is subject to their respective terms of use and privacy policies.

2. Visitors

If you are a Visitor, we will collect personal information that you provide to us, including if you contact us with questions, sign up for a newsletter, or otherwise submit data to us. We will also automatically collect information described in 3.1(b) for Visitors. We will use this information for the purposes described in Section 3.1(b), in our Cookie Policy [https://help.summitlearning.org/hc/en-us/sections/360000142588-Privacy-Security-FAQs] ("Cookie Policy"), and in accordance with any of the notices

By using our Services, including visiting the Summit Learning Program website, you are entering into a contract with T.L.P. Education.

This Privacy Policy covers personal information for students, parents/legal guardians, teachers, and school officials who use our Learning Services.

This Privacy Policy also covers personal information of Visitors to our website who are not using our Learning Services.

We collect and use information from Visitors to do things like send them newsletters about our work.
provided at the point you submit any personal information (e.g., to be contacted for more information about the Program).

3. Users of the Learning Services

We provide the Program directly to schools and school districts that enter into a “Program Agreement” [cdn.summitlearning.org/marketing/privacy_center/program_agreement.pdf] (“Program Agreement”) with us for their educational purposes (“Partner Schools”). In order to operate the Program for Partner Schools, we collect certain information through the Learning Services and only use and share the information for Learning Services in accordance with such Program Agreements (or other terms agreed upon with applicable schools), this Privacy Policy and applicable laws. Each Program Agreement includes a Data Privacy Addendum [cdn.summitlearning.org/marketing/privacy_center/data_privacy_addendum.pdf] that includes protections for Student User information, and limits our use and sharing of Student User personal information to the Learning Services. Parents/legal guardians can get more information about the Learning Services here [https://www.summitlearning.org/approach/learning-experience].

For Student Users, we define personal information as information that would allow someone to identify or contact the child or as otherwise would be recognized as personally identifiable information under COPPA or FERPA, including when non-personally identifiable data is combined with it.

3.1. Information We Collect

We collect different information depending on whether the User is a teacher, school administrator, parent/legal guardian or Student User and how the User uses the Services. We get information about and from Users in two ways: (1) from information provided directly to us and (2) from information we collect through Services engagement. Information provided directly to us can include information provided by Partner Schools and external parties [https://help.summitlearning.org/hc/en-us/sections/360000142588-Privacy-Security-FAQs]. Regardless of how we get personal information about Users, including Students, we only use the information to provide the Program in accordance with our commitments to our School Partners and as otherwise provided in this Privacy Policy or our agreement with the User.

(a) Information Provided Directly to Us

We collect and use personal information from Users to provide them their educational services.
Licensed Users or their Partner School may choose to provide us personal information and Partner Schools may direct that personal information be provided to us by others for use in connection with the Program. Examples of such information include the following:

| Account Sign-Up and Profile Information | • Contact information such as full name and email address;
|                                             | • Username and password; and
|                                             | • Teacher information, including, but not limited to, name and years of experience. |
| Class and Student User Information         | • Class rosters, homeroom, and grade level;
|                                             | • Student name;
|                                             | • Student email address;
|                                             | • Student identification numbers such as school identification number or school information system identification number;
|                                             | • Student record information such as attendance, suspension, and expulsions;
|                                             | • Student demographic data, including date of birth, gender, ethnicity or race, and socioeconomic status;
|                                             | • Student subgroups, such as English learners;
|                                             | • Student subgroups, such as students with disabilities;
|                                             | • Mentor observations;
|                                             | • Student outcome information such as grade level promotion and matriculation, AP and IB test information, college admission test scores, college eligibility and acceptance, and employment; and
|                                             | • Academic or extracurricular activities a student may belong to or participate in. |
| Course Information and Student User Scores | • Course data including coursework in applicable media (e.g., video, audio, text and images) and course progress;
|                                             | • Student scheduled courses;
|                                             | • Test scores, grades, standardized test results (such as NWEA MAP, SBAC, etc.), and teacher feedback on coursework; and
|                                             | • Teacher curricula and notes and feedback to or about students. |
| Parent Information                         | • Names, mobile phone numbers and email addresses of parents/legal guardians, if provided to us by the Partner School or the parent/legal guardian. |
| Other                                      | • Answers to surveys about the Services or curricula; and |

We collect information when it is provided by users and/or schools.

Examples of the type of personal information used in the Learning Services, including student academic records.
For a more comprehensive list of information, see Exhibit A of the Data Privacy Addendum here [cdn.summitlearning.org/marketing/privacy_center/data_privacy_addendum.pdf].

(b) Information We Collect Through Services Engagement

We may collect certain information from Users' and Visitors' computers and devices as they use or engage with the Services, such as Internet protocol (IP) addresses and other identifiers that are automatically assigned to a User’s or Visitor’s computer or device, browser type, operating system, and Internet service provider. We also collect the date and time of your use of the Services, and information about the links clicked and pages viewed within the Services. We collect this information to better distinguish users of the Services, which helps us to better secure our Services, understand which of our content and features users find valuable and, for Licensed Users, to provide personalized Services.

We also use technologies such as cookies, pixel tags, local storage, and similar technologies to automatically collect this information. By using the Services, you consent to our use of cookies and similar technologies to collect information as you engage with the Services. You have control over the collection of information through these technologies per our Cookie Policy. If you choose to refuse, disable, or delete these technologies, some of the Services functionality may not work properly. We currently do not support “do not track” signals or related opt-outs.

(c) Information Received from External Sources

We may also obtain information, including personal information, from external sources, such as content partners, providers of tests and assessments, and Student User information systems, to update or supplement the information we have about Users. For example, this may include data schools choose to provide us via School Information System (SIS) integrations with providers such as Clever. You can see more information about such integrations here [https://help.summitlearning.org/hc/en-us/articles/222708728]. Local law may require that you authorize the external sources to share your information with us before we can acquire it. We treat personal information we receive from these external sources in accordance with this Privacy Policy, including if we directly combine that personal information with other personal information that we collect through the Learning Services.

(d) Information We Do Not Seek to Collect or Store

We do not seek to collect the precise location of students or biometric data. If we become aware that such information has been provided, we will delete it within a reasonable time of such awareness or get school or parent consent to keep it if it is reasonably necessary for the Program.

3.2. We Limit The Use Of The Information We Collect

We use the personal information we collect from the Learning Services for educational purposes as directed by Partner Schools, including to:

- Provide curricula choice or recommendations;
- Drive learning engagement and progress via content suggestions to Users;
- Maintain the security of the Services, troubleshoot, and perform audits;
- Administer surveys, studies, and interviews;
- Operate, develop, analyze, evaluate, and improve the Services;
- Communicate with Users in connection with providing the Services;
- Send parents/legal guardians who are Users informational alerts or other communications via SMS or email messages (see Section 9 (“How We Communicate with You”) for information on how to manage or opt-out of communications);
- Evaluate the efficacy of the Services and Program;
- Perform other activities requested by Partner Schools for educational purposes or with the consent of a parent or legal guardian or Student User of the age of majority;
- Protect or defend the rights, safety, or property of Summit Learning, Partner Schools or Users, or to comply with any law enforcement, legal, or regulatory process;
- De-identify the information for other Summit Learning purposes; or
- Comply with applicable laws.

In addition, we de-identify personal information and use de-identified information for other purposes, including research and product improvement. We consider “de-identified” information to be information that has all direct and indirect personal identifiers removed such that the data cannot reasonably be used to identify or contact an individual. This

We want to be clear that we don’t collect certain types of sensitive information through the Services, such as the exact location of students.

We use information collected from the Learning Services only for educational purposes.

We want to be clear that we don’t use personal information to make money from your or a student’s use of our Services. The Summit includes, but is not limited to, persistent unique identifiers, name, ID numbers, date of birth, and school ID.

To be clear, we will not:
- Include ads in the Services;
- Use personal information collected through the Services for advertising, including for behaviorally-targeted ads;
- Seek to make money from students or their schools, teachers, or parents through the Services;
- Use the personal information we collect from Users for marketing purposes (but may ask Users to participate in surveys or provide feedback regarding the Services);
- Get paid to make recommendations to students or use (or authorize Service Providers (defined in Section 3.3 below) to use) the personal information we collect from students for advertising purposes, including behaviorally-targeted advertising purposes. [Note: Our personalized learning may include recommendations for further learning resources, including some resources provided by others.];
- Sell, rent or lease (or authorize Service Providers to sell, rent or lease) any personal information we collect from Student Users for any purpose – including for advertising and marketing purposes;
- Use (or authorize Service Providers to use) the personal information we collect from Users for the creation of commercial products or services; or
- Use information collected from Student Users for any purposes other than educational purposes of our Partner Schools unless we have de-identified the information such that it cannot reasonably be linked to an identifiable Student User.

- With the Partner Schools and other Licensed Users within a school as authorized by the Partner School and for the Partner School’s educational purposes. The Learning Services do not include features that make Student User personally identifiable data publicly available.
- With a Student User’s parent/legal guardian as authorized by the Partner School or as required by applicable law.
- With Service Providers who help us develop and provide the Services. A list of our Service Providers can be accessed here [https://help.summitlearning.org/hc/en-us/sections/360000142588-Privacy-Security-FAQs] (“Service Providers”), which may be updated Learning Program is provided by us at no charge to users and Partner Schools.

We limit access to personal information collected from the Services to those who need access to provide the Services.

Schools and teachers get access to information about their students and parents/legal guardians from time to time. We use Service Providers for tasks such as document management; data hosting; and provisioning customer service tools related to the Learning Services. We do not and will not grant Service Providers the right or permission to use your personal information beyond what is reasonably necessary to assist us in providing the Services. We include protections for personal information in our Service Provider contracts, including contractually prohibiting them from selling personal information, or using it for any purpose other than providing services to us. We also require Service Providers to implement reasonable security practices in accordance with the Data Privacy Addendum. You can learn more about our security practices in our Security Whitepaper [cdn.summitlearning.org/marketing/privacy_center/security.pdf] ("Security Whitepaper").

- With entities that we are obligated to share information with, as required by law or our agreements with Partner Schools. We may share personal information with third parties if we believe in good faith that sharing information is necessary or appropriate (i) to protect or defend the rights, interests, safety, or security of us, our Partner Schools, Users, or Service Providers; (ii) to prevent violations of the terms of use that govern the Learning Services; and (iii) as otherwise required by law.

- With others as required to comply with any law enforcement, legal, or regulatory process (e.g., warrants, subpoenas, court orders), or other applicable laws and regulations. In such cases, to the extent permitted by law, we will attempt to provide the Partner School or parent/legal guardian (as applicable) with notice of such legal request prior to complying with respect to requests for Student User personal information.

- With successors in connection with a change to our organization. We along with other Student Privacy Pledgers have committed to protect Student User personal information in the event an acquisition, sale or reorganization our Summit Learning results in a transfer of personal information to a successor entity.
  - In the event of such a transfer to a successor entity, we will provide notice to Users through the Services (or other contact information we have for a User) and this Privacy Policy will continue to apply and any successor entity would be permitted to use and share personal information only pursuant to this Privacy Policy (unless Users agree otherwise). If a successor entity does not agree to comply with this Privacy Policy, Users will be given a chance to opt out of the transfer of their personal information to the new entity.
  - In the unlikely event that we file for bankruptcy or dissolution, we will protect your personal information by seeking to require that it be used only in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

We will provide information to others when required by law or directed by the appropriate school.

If there were a successors to us running the Summit Learning Program, that organization would be bound by this Privacy Policy.
Policy, and we will not sell personal information to any third party.
- With third parties, if directed or authorized by the Partner School or with parental consent, to the extent permitted by law and subject to our User Agreement.

In the event we wish to demonstrate how the Program is used or its efficacy, or otherwise provide information or marketing materials related to the Program (collectively, “Information Purposes”), we will only share de-identified information. We may share aggregated and/or non-personally identifiable information publicly (such as statistics about visitors, and traffic patterns). We will not share personal information for such Information Purposes.

| 4. We Support Parent Engagement |
| We support and encourage the involvement of parents and guardians in their Student Users' education. Parents, legal guardians, and Student Users may, at any time, make a request for access, review, correction or deletion of personal information in the Services by contacting the appropriate official at the Student User’s Partner School. If the Partner School determines that the request should be implemented, the Partner School may either make the change themselves or ask us to make such change. We will use commercially reasonable efforts to process such requests in a timely manner consistent with applicable law. |
| We value parent/legal guardian involvement in the Learning Services. We will support requests through the Partner School to access, review, correct or delete personal information. |

| 5. Student User’s Personal Information |
| All students who use the Program will be enrolled in a Partner School that has signed a Program Agreement to participate in the Program, including the Learning Services. Pursuant to each Program Agreement (including the Data Privacy Addendum), each Partner School has consented to our practices regarding the collection, use, and disclosure of personal information from Student Users as permitted by law. |
| Schools have the authority to provide us their student’s data so that we can provide educational services. |

Prior to a student accessing the Learning Services, the Student User’s teacher or Partner School administrator must create the Student User’s account on the Learning Services. When the Partner School administrator or teacher registers its students, we rely on consent obtained from Partner Schools acting as an agent of the Student User’s parent or legal guardian. For more information, please see our Frequently Asked Questions https://help.summitlearning.org/hc/en-us/sections/360000142588-Privacy-S

The Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act [https://www.ftc.gov/tips-advice/business-center/guidance/complying-coppa-frequently-asked-questions] (“COPPA”) governs the collection of certain information from children under the age of 13 (“child” or “children”); for more information about COPPA and generally protecting children’s online privacy, please visit OnGuard Online [https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/features/feature-0038-onguardonline]. While COPPA does not directly apply to non-profit organizations such as Summit Learning, we voluntarily comply with COPPA’s guidelines regarding students under the age of 13 as part of our commitment to transparency with parents regarding the collection and use of their child’s data.

The commitments we make regarding information collected from or about students apply equally to all students regardless of their age. Accordingly, where this Privacy Policy references students or any information collected from or about students, our Privacy Policy applies to students under 13 years old as well as students 13 years old and above.

For more information about how we protect student information, see Section 12.

<td>The security of personal information from our Users is important to us, and we work hard to protect it from unauthorized access and use. In an effort to prevent unauthorized access, disclosure, or improper use of User information, and to maintain data accuracy, we have established physical, technical, and administrative safeguards designed to protect the personal information we collect. For additional technical details regarding Summit Learning’s security programs and measures, please see our Security Whitepaper.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We work to secure personal information from unauthorized access and misuse, using the measures identified here.</td>

</tbody>
</table>

We’re constantly evolving our security procedures as technology changes, but our security procedures at a minimum include the following:

- We restrict access to personal information to authorized Summit Learning employees, agents, service providers, or independent contractors who reasonably need to know that information in order to process it for us, and who are subject to confidentiality obligations. Employees and contractors (“Staff”) are subject to discipline if they fail to meet these obligations;

- We require our Service Providers with which we share Student User personal information to employ industry standard data protection and security protocols;
- We use identification and authentication methods such as multi-factor authentication;
- We employ administrative, physical, and technical safeguards designed to protect personal information from unauthorized access, disclosure, and use or acquisition by an unauthorized person, including when transmitting and storing such information;
- We employ encryption technologies to securely transmit personal information, including data-in-transit encryption, and we encrypt personal information that is stored;
- We maintain a data backup and recovery capability designed to ensure a timely and accurate restoration of personal information;
- We maintain a secure software development lifecycle with industry standard security practices designed to establish secure application(s), network, and infrastructure architectures;
- We maintain event monitoring and response procedures for events which could impact functionality, security and/or availability of the Learning Services;
- We regularly provide Staff training for security incidents and maintain incident response policies, plans and procedures focused on timely and effective incident response;
- We employ trained incident handling professionals with experience in security incident and event monitoring;
- We perform application security testing (including penetration testing) and conduct security risk assessments focused on the identification and remediation of risks. Any identified security vulnerabilities will be remediated in a timely manner;
- We implement oversight and governance procedures for security risks, including a vulnerability disclosure program and mandatory reviews of any incidents affecting the Summit Learning Platform.

We regularly develop and implement features to help keep personal information safe. You can find more information about our technical practices in our Security Whitepaper. Should you discover any security bugs or vulnerabilities in our Services or have any questions regarding our data practices, please contact our team at security@summitlearning.org.

Although we make concerted good faith efforts to maintain the security of personal information, and we work hard to ensure the integrity and security of our systems, no practice can be 100% guaranteed. The security of personal information can be compromised by outages, attacks, human error, system failure, unauthorized use or other factors at any time. If we learn of a breach of your personal information, we will you provide notice which will include information required by applicable law.

9. How We Communicate with You

If you created an account on the Services (or otherwise provided an email address or phone number to us, or otherwise opted-in to receive communications from us), we may send you messages related to the Services, including regarding your account, privacy and security notices, updates and information regarding the Program, including the Learning Services. These communications may be sent through SMS, push notifications, email, telephone calls, and postal mail. [Note: Standard carrier fees may apply to messages sent to your mobile devices.] If you have an account with us, we'll also use your contact information for customer service purposes, or to contact you for legal matters or purposes. We may receive a confirmation when you open an email from us if your device supports it.

If, as a parent/legal guardian of a Student User, you provided contact information to your school, your account (“Parent Account”) will be set up by your Student User’s teacher or Partner School. At the direction of the Partner School, we may send an invitation to you to log in to your Parent Account via the contact information that your Student User’s teacher or Partner School provided to us to set up your Parent Account. The invitation may be sent via email or SMS text message. [Note: Your carrier may charge you fees.] If, as a parent/legal guardian of a Student User, you provide your telephone number to your Student User’s Partner School, you are consenting to Summit Learning (on behalf of and at the direction of your child's Partner School) sending informational text messages related to the Partner School's mission. If, as a parent/legal guardian, you would prefer not to receive our communications, you may opt-out using the “Unsubscribe” or “STOP” instructions contained in these communications and/or by turning off push notifications on your device.

We may modify this Privacy Policy or our User Agreement from time to time. If we make material changes to this Privacy Policy, including changes that impair your rights or change how your data will be used under this Privacy Policy, we will provide you at least 30 days prior notice pursuant to this Section 10. We will seek to provide you notice through our Services, or by other means, to provide you the opportunity to review the changes before they become effective. We agree that changes cannot be retroactive. The notice will indicate which sections contain material modifications and what choices you may have. Your continued use of our Services after we publish or send a notice about our changes to these terms means that you are consenting to the updated terms following their “effective date.” If you object to any changes, you must stop using or accessing the Services. If we make any changes to this Privacy Policy or the User Agreement, you can request

12. Useful Information Regarding Student Data

What Information Does Summit Learning Collect from Students and How Does Summit Learning Use the Information?

As described above, we use the information collected from Student Users to provide the Learning Services to Student Users and as described further in this Privacy Policy and the User Agreement. The Partner Schools have authorized us to collect the information from Student Users necessary to use our Learning Services, including:

- Classwork, for example: project submissions (including documents and other media), assessment responses, and academic goals;
- Communications with teachers and mentors, for example: responses to teacher feedback, free-form notes, and requests for guidance; and
- Non-academic information, for example: college and career interests, college preparation artifacts (essays, letters of recommendation), reflections on academic progress and other self-assessments, anonymous survey responses, and offers to tutor peers.

In addition to the information entered by the Student User, we automatically collect some information from any use of our Learning Services as set forth in Section 3.1(b) of this Privacy Policy. We also receive information from the Student User's teacher or Student User's Partner School, and link to the Student User's account in our Learning Systems as set forth in Section 3.1.

If we discover that we have collected personal information from a Student User in a manner inconsistent with this Privacy Policy, we will take appropriate steps to either promptly delete the information, or seek consent [https://www.sumitlearning.org/privacy-center] for that use for the Learning Services.

What Student Information is Visible to Others?

The Learning Services limit access to each Student User's account and the content thereon to the Student User, the Student User’s parents/legal guardians, teachers, school administrators, and other teachers in the Student User’s Partner School (depending on the setting selected by the Partner School's administrator). Accordingly, the Learning Services do not permit any Student User’s account or the content and grades thereon to be viewed or accessed by the general public. A Student User may choose to share coursework through certain non-Summit Learning features (for example: sharing options available in Google Documents based on the Partner School's configuration).

How Long Does You Keep a Student’s Information?

Please see Section 7 (“Data Retention”). If you are a parent or legal guardian of a Student User under the age of 18 and you wish to have a Student's personal information removed from the Learning Services, please contact your Partner School.

What Parental Choices are there?

Please see Section 4 (“We Support Parent Engagement”).
